

UNIVERSAL TAXED BY ITALY

SENOR CRESPI PROPOSES INTERNATIONAL MEASURE FOR FINANCIAL FRONT OF ALLIES.

WOULD POOL FUND

Urges Protection of Home Manufacturers; Concerted Agreement on Conditions of Labor.

Paris, Feb. 3.—A universal tax, the proceeds of which would be put into a common fund along with the indemnities Germany would be made to pay, is proposed by Senator Crespi of the Italian delegation to the peace conference in the proposition he has made to the establishment of a "single national front" for the allies.

The tax would furnish interest on that portion of the debts of the allies which Germany had not paid and provide a sinking fund for ultimately canceling the debts.

Senator Crespi declared that his great point was that the central empires as a whole must be forced to compensate the allies for the damages they have suffered. Responsibility was collective, he said, and all the enemy states would have to pay in proportion to their wealth.

All the allies have suffered immense losses and they must all benefit from the indemnities which the enemy is to pay. Each one should receive in proportion to the effort it has made. This smaller states that have spent more than larger one in comparison to their wealth ought to receive larger indemnities in proportion.

The simplest way to carry out the act of distribution would be to put the entire fund into a common pool which could be periodically apportioned among the different nations. The fund should be augmented by taxes of a universal character levied on all states, enemy, allied or neutral, the last named, having benefited from the sacrifices made by the others.

Urges Speedy Intensity. The enemy should be forced to pay the indemnities in the form of goods, raw materials, and finished products. Part of the debt might be covered by bonds which they would take up gradually in exchange for goods delivered to the allies.

The supply of raw materials is another important question. If they are furnished to enemy countries at the same time as the goods, it would be to the advantage of the allies, whose industrial plants have not been destroyed and who are ready to return to a peace basis in their own countries.

Asks Labor to Length of the working days. A day's labor in Germany before the war was very long. If it continues so now they will be able to produce more goods than they can consume. International laws on this question have become essential.

Another problem is that of exchange between different nations. An example is the exchange of the dollar for the franc. The dollar is re-established will have to import very largely to replenish depleted stocks. This will have a disastrous effect on our money, unless the state is to question it soon.

London, Feb. 3.—The abolition of submarines as warships may be decided upon by the league of nations during the coming week, according to the Paris correspondent of the Mail. It is said that this was one of the several understandings which were reached during the conference on Friday between President Wilson and Colonel House, General Smuts and Lord Robert Cecil.

British and American delegates are said to have reached a general opinion at this point. It was suggested by some that the submarine might be used defensively within the three mile limit of territorial waters but the overwhelming sentiment was that the U-boat must be abolished outright.

After scrapping the submarine, the correspondent says, "it is understood that recommendations will be made to that the league of nations take the place of all other weapons in future wars. Respecting disarmament, the league will endeavor to work out a scheme by which the armaments of nations will be gradually curtailed to a point decided upon by being necessary for defense."

DELEGATES TO PEACE CONGRESS TO BE NAMED

Ten representative citizens of this city will be selected by Mayor Valentine as delegates to the Great Lakes congress for the League of Nations to be held in Chicago February 10-11, 1919.

Mayor Valentine has not completed his selections as yet, but will announce the complete list within a few days. The delegates will be named by the mayor and Rev. Melrose and J. J. Duhan have also been named.

Delegates would do well to make their hotel reservations without delay, as the crowds in Chicago hotels are large and hotel accommodations will be increasingly scarce by those in attendance at the congress.

PRIVATE REPORT PUT IN RECORD OF PACKERS' CASE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Feb. 3.—Edward C. Lusater, member of the executive committee of the national poultry association and formerly connected with the food administration's meat division, asserted before the house interstate commerce committee that the food administration and department of agriculture aided the five leading meat packers in obtaining a monopolistic control of the meat market.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Penciled notations signed "L. F. S." dealing with testimony last week concerning W. F. Pribyl, the food administration's poultry division, were admitted to the record today by the senate agriculture committee investigating meat industry legislation.

Francis J. Kennedy told the committee that a mistake in a private copy of the federal trade commission's report had been placed in his own brief case.

Appended to one of the pages was a card on which was written: "Pribyl matter shows up rotten. I am ashamed it got this way and sorry we cannot change over to Swift and company, or sell out to them. We must. Return book L. F. S." On the card was the name of L. A. Carlton, treasurer of Swift and company, and the following notation signed L. A. C.: "It is not a matter of whole poultry business. Whether it will be less so by changing name to Swift and company, is matter I have mentioned to you and others without conclusion."

Senator Page of Vermont protested against the admission of the memorandum as part of the record as "a matter of confidence."

Chairman Gore with the consent of other members ordered the matter in the record on the ground that "the interest of a meat packer in the production of a meat packer by activities which he said had been brought out in previous testimony."

Criticizing the Kendrick bill for regulation of the meat industry, Mr. Waid said it was "merely a sop to a misinformed public which is ignorant of the necessities of the packing industry and to radical agitators."

GATES URGES MARKET RULE WHEAT PRICE

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE MAN SAYS PENDING LEGISLATION IS VICIOUS.

ATTACKS GUARANTEE

Declares Government Made Fallacy at Start and Will Have to Pay Penalty.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Legislation to continue the food administration grain corporation to maintain the 1919 wheat price guarantee was attacked today by F. Gates, representing the Chicago board of trade before the house agriculture committee. He urged that wheat be sold at the world price and declared the Chicago board was in favor of returning to the law of supply and demand.

The pending bill would give broad powers to the grain corporation for price control and appropriate $1,250,000 for its working capital.

"The bill is so vicious that if the business men of the country had any knowledge of it they would come to Washington and camp here until the measures were disposed of," declared Mr. Gates.

A. E. Reynolds, Crawfordville, Ind., chairman of the Grain Dealers' National association legislative committee, said if the proposed legislation were passed, the only thing to do was to wait and see what the agency's course would be, and that too much uncertainty was involved.

Mr. Reynolds presented resolutions of his association urging Congress to appropriate not less than $1,250,000 for maintaining the price and that consumers buy wheat and wheat products at the export price. A loss of $1 a bushel on wheat, he intimated, might be suffered by the government.

"The government," Mr. Gates asserted, "adopted an economic fallacy at the start by breaking the law of supply and demand. There are two ways out; one to drag along by some agency disregarding the economic law and the other to pay the price of the law."

"What is the keynote of the cost of living," he added, saying that "the whole thing will tumble if you knock out the keystone of the arch. The government has broken the law of supply and demand. There are two ways out; one to drag along by some agency disregarding the economic law and the other to pay the price of the law."

COMMERCE CHAMBER ACTIVE; MEMBERS TAKE STEPS TO AID CITY

Approval of the plan of the Federation of Women's clubs for a city probation officer, hearing of a report showing that board of education is actively at work on the new high school, proposition, and a number of plans for a new and stand and outdoor auditorium which will cost approximately $2,500, showed at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon today that the spirit is more active than ever among the members of that organization.

Rev. Melrose presided at today's dinner, which was held at the Grand hotel, an open forum was held. Council Favors Officer.

Upon the motion of A. E. Matheson, the council went on record as favoring the work of the city. The federated clubs have had the movement under way for several days, and have met with Beloit club women to discuss the matter.

William McVicar, chairman of the committee in charge of the Beloit Housing corporation, appealed to the business men for support. The organization must be started immediately, and only $75,000 is in the treasury, he stated.

The total desired is $300,000. Members of the committee will make another possible canvass to raise the remainder of the fund.

Board Works on Plans. A survey of the soil condition and general desirability of the proposed police station site has been made. Francis Grant, president of the school board, told the members. The report will be submitted to the state architect and engineer.

Mr. Grant said that the board was acting slowly upon the proposition to build a new police station, but that it was the duty of the citizens when a definite step was taken.

The controversy regarding the high school has been a good thing, Mr. Grant said. It has brought the public eye. Citizens will as a result have a clearer idea of just what they desire. The board will be ready on its part.

A report on the proposed band stand, which was made by William Ford, head of the committee chosen last fall to investigate this matter, for completion of the stand. The money will be voted by the city.

The stand will be more than a place for musical concerts, Mr. Ford explained. It is to be a place where the public can get a better idea of the city's needs. It will be a place where the public can get a better idea of the city's needs.

TUBES LINED IN STRIKE IN LONDON

UNDERGROUND LINES AND ELECTRIC SYSTEMS AFFECTED BY WALKOUT OF TRAFFIC EMPLOYEES.

SITUATION CRITICAL

Hotel Workers Getting Fever of "Epidemic" for Better Hours, Wages, and Conditions.

London, Feb. 3.—The strike fever which has become epidemic in the United Kingdom, spread to London, and the present week promises to be a critical one industrially for the metropolis. There have been minor strikes in the city during the last few weeks, but the seriousness of the situation was not brought home to the people until this morning, when they found the entrances to the principal tube stations closed owing to the midnight decision of the employees not to move trains today.

The electric system of the London Underground railway, which serves many of the important suburbs, also was partly stopped. There were only two underground strikes in the city during the last few weeks, but the seriousness of the situation was not brought home to the people until this morning, when they found the entrances to the principal tube stations closed owing to the midnight decision of the employees not to move trains today.

CITY PASSES QUOTA IN RELIEF DRIVE; WOMEN PRAISED

Janesville has raised her share in the campaign for relief in the near east. Coming from behind, when first the quota was set, and aided by untiring work of the women of the city, Janesville piled up a total of $4,120.80 more than the necessary contribution by over $100,000.

The goal of 35 cents per capita set throughout the country, which makes the city's share $4,632, is expected to be passed by tonight, when the campaign closes. That amount, however, is not the total, as the city's share is expected to be passed by tonight, when the campaign closes.

Tag Day Nets $1,430. Tag day, Saturday, netted $1,430, $928.80 of it being collected by 56 high school girls on the street. The remainder was raised by solicitation on the part of the women. One subscription was for $100, and two others were for $50 each. Exactly 4,013 pennies were collected, 2,634 nickels, and 2,668 dimes.

Senator Whitehead, county chairman, and Frank J. Green, assistant, were well pleased with the success of the campaign.

"The city certainly done well," said Senator Whitehead this morning. "Janesville is indebted to the women. Without them we would have failed," was the statement of Mr. Green.

With the exception of the factories, which have until Wednesday night to complete their returns, each group has already more than done its share in raising money for the campaign. All money raised turned over to the county committee, Wednesday.

Under the general supervision of Mrs. Herbert Ford, the following women devoted their spare time Saturday to make the campaign a success: Mrs. Louis Levy, Mrs. Francis Grant, Mrs. Mary Hopkins, Mrs. Arthur Grant, Mrs. Hattie Quirk, Mrs. Frank W. Van Kirk, Mrs. Mac McMillan, and Miss Mary Mount.

Girls Assist in Tagging. The girls who assisted in the tag day were: Townsend, Alice William, Lucile Alkenson, Ruby Reed, Helen Anderson, Virginia Parker, Ellen Daley, Kathryn M. Pinley, Helen Hargrave, Bessie Korn, Winifred Smith, Mary Bell, Gertrude Smith, Mabel Kott, Beatrice Fued, Ethel Chaston, Dorothy Boett, Francis Buis, Francis Field, Emily Weber, Elizabeth Schaller, Caroline Webb, Elizabeth Hutledge, Morris Blakely, Elsie Ward, Lillian Comull, Mildred Look, Ethel Cornell, Dorothy Peterson, and Miss Mary Mount.

Engineers to Quit. The next stoppage on the program is that of the engineers, who expect to go on strike Thursday for a 40-hour week. A similar demand is being made by the 24 trades unions, women workers and electrical trades unions.

Thomas Cordio, a Beloit cobbler, was murdered in a house on Pleasant street in Beloit last night by Carmelo Covelera, another Italian. The victim was shot four times directly at his chest. A policeman who happened to be near the house, rushed in and grabbed Covelera just as he was about to flee. He was taken to the police station.

Whether the murder was the result of an old grudge or an argument last evening has not been determined. The victim was shot four times directly at his chest. A policeman who happened to be near the house, rushed in and grabbed Covelera just as he was about to flee. He was taken to the police station.

County Coroner Lynn Whaley and Dist. Atty. S. G. Dunwiddie went to Beloit this morning to make an investigation. Mr. Whaley picked the following men as members of the coroner's jury: Henry Dorbacher, Henry Miller, James K. Oliver, John Krueger, and Simon Strong.

The inquest will be held Thursday morning at Rossman's undertaking rooms where the body of the murdered man was taken.

BOLSHEVISTS ACTIVE; DISTURB TURKISTAN

Constantinople, (Sunday).—Information has been received of disturbed conditions in Turkistan where Bolshevism is prevalent and where some 40,000 German and Austrian prisoners are being held by the Bolsheviks in the northern region. General Denekine's army near Ekaterinodar is making progress.

The Russian Black sea ports are said to be closed to the presence of allied warships.

COMPENSATION ACT AMENDED IN BILL

Madison, Jan. 31.—Senator Bennett's bill amending the compensation act by striking out the term "accidentally" injured, makes the Wisconsin law similar in this respect to the Massachusetts and California. The effect of the amendment where the disease is shown to have been clearly due to the employment in which the worker was engaged.

Many cases of occupational disease have come before the industrial commission, in most of which compensation had to be denied for the reason that the injury was "accidentally" sustained.

The number of cases which would be covered by an amendment of this kind is not indicated by the fact that the stock compensation insurance companies apply a loading of one per cent for compensation acts which apply to occupational diseases.

Eggs Coming Down; So is Cost of Living

Chicago, Feb. 3.—Cost of living came down sharply today in one important item, the cost of eggs. Owing to plentiful arrivals here, totaling nearly five million as a week ago, whole sale prices fell 4 1/2 to 6 1/2 a dozen. The new quotations ranged from 33 1/2 to 35c.

EQUITY MARKETING BILL PROVIDES FOR UNIQUE FUNCTIONS

J. C. HANSON TO OFFER MEASURE IN HOUSE; WIDELY VARI-ANT FROM SKOGMO'S PLAN.

COMES UP TUESDAY

Would Create Board of Foods and Markets; Abolishes Present Department.

By FRED L. HOLMES.
Madison.—The equity farm marketing bill will make its appearance in the house on Tuesday. The measure will be offered by Assemblyman J. C. Hanson, Dane county. The provisions of this measure are radically different from the measure drafted by the special legislature investigating committee. The latter bill will be offered by Senator George B. Skogmo in the upper house. Market legislation is the one big plank in the republican platform. It will be in the central issue of legislation.

The Hanson bill abolishes the dairy and food department, the department of farmer's institutes and the bureau of immigration and the duties and functions of these departments within the new market commission. The bill creates a board of foods and markets composed of three members appointed by the senate and assembly. Of the three members of the board, one shall be selected from a list furnished by the governor by the second organizations of the state and the third may be named by the executive without suggestion. The term of office is six years and the salary is $5,000 annually. The secretary shall receive a salary of $3,600 annually.

Has Unique Provision.
Then comes a provision that will not be found in any market commission bill so far enacted by any state. "Any member of the commission removed from office by a majority vote of both houses of the legislature assembled in joint session."

Among the more important marketing powers of the commission are:
Established rules and practices relating to standardizing, grading, weighing, packing, storage and sale of food products including an investigation of supply and demand, prevailing prices, cost of production, or manufacture and profits in handling thereof.
To collect information on the supply and demand for products and to aid in marketing these products efficiently and economically.

To promote organization of public markets.
Investigate delays, embargoes, rates, and charges for handling agricultural products or food products, raw or manufactured and to institute legal proceedings to secure justice.

To promote co-operation.
To fix standards of grades and classification of farm products.
Use of Label Restricted.
It is made unlawful for any person to use a label on any product of such product has been inspected, graded and standardized; to use a similar label or design. The board is given power to investigate the conduct of any board or business handling food products to ascertain if the practices are legal. The bill also declares that "the production of and manufacture of farm agricultural and food products, and the marketing and the selling of the same, are affected with the public interest."

PARKER HOG SALE BRINGS GOOD PRICES

Ed. H. Parker and son's auction sale of pure bred Duroc hogs held at the fair grounds Saturday was one great success. The total sum realized from the sale of 42 bred sows, 2 fall hogs and 2 fall gilts was $9,659. Mr. Parker in speaking of the sale this morning said: "We sold every one of them and could have sold 50 more if we had brought them out. The average was $231 while last year it was but $196 and at other Duroc sales in Minnesota and Wisconsin this year the highest average was $186."

Over 200 people took part in the middle west attended the sale. It was one of the biggest affairs of its kind ever staged in the city. One sow was sold to Gordon and the center of Parker, Kansas, one to Brooks of Missouri and the remainder to buyers from Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and Illinois.

Ten of the hogs were shipped out today by Mr. Parker and the others will all be shipped Monday. The prices ranged from $125 to $310.

The sow donated to the sale as a Red Cross benefit by Mr. Parker was sold for $80 and this sum will be turned over to that organization by Mr. Parker.

HINES ASKS CLOSE U. S. SUPERVISION OF ALL RAILROADS

the time will then have to be extended.

Wages Due Consideration
At present, said Mr. Hines, the unfair inference is persistently drawn that the heavy increase in wages is entirely due to the increased rate of wages, whereas they are largely due to war conditions, and the position of labor in this matter should not be prejudiced by casting consideration before there is time to see the results of increased wages under peace conditions. It will be the middle of 1921 before a fair view of government operation can be obtained.

No plans now before the committee meet the fundamental necessities of the permanent solution, said the speaker. "Those already proposed, he declared, would perpetuate existing railroad capitalizations which he believes were the cause of deep seated suspicion on the part of the public and which must be corrected before any permanent solution can be had."

Includes All Companies
The present plans, he asserted, include all existing railroad companies, both those which thrive on low rates and those which fall on high rates. A permanent solution, Mr. Hines said, should give the government and perhaps labor, participation in excess profits of some companies under standard rates. Plans heretofore proposed were based on the theory that railroads should receive a reasonable return, no more and no less, but in the actual results, he believed the return would be inexact and widely fluctuating. Failure of the pending plans to meet these fundamentals, said Mr. Hines, would lead to a general acceptance and will not solve the question satisfactorily. He added that proposed plans for pooling and consolidations will prove useless because they cannot successfully be made compulsory.

LEGISLATIVE MILL GRINDS LANGUAGE BILL UP WEDNESDAY

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison.—That the legislative mill has at last begun to grind is indicated by the number of committee hearings that have been scheduled in both houses of the legislature for this week. Most of the important hearings will be held Wednesday and Thursday. The assembly education committee on Wednesday afternoon will take up the bill by Assemblyman Axel Johnson to prohibit the teaching of foreign languages in the public schools and high schools. The bill has attracted wide attention and an interesting debate over the provisions of the measure is anticipated.

Tuesday the assembly committee on transportation took up the bill providing for an electric railroad commission. That the electric society may not fully support this measure was indicated by the new Equity bill today which provides for the confirmation of the appointments to the commission, with power in the legislature to recall a commissioner at any time. It is said that the bill embodying this idea may be offered to the Bartingale bill. Tuesday the assembly taxation committee will consider the C. E. Hanson bill to repeal the personal property tax. Another bill by Mr. Hanson to greatly increase the state income taxes is scheduled for a hearing before the same committee on Thursday.

Before the senate committee on hearing will be given by the judiciary committee on Thursday to the Burke bill increasing the amount of compensation for injuries under the income tax act. The senate committee on hearing will be given by the joint finance committee on Tuesday and the judiciary committee will give a hearing to the constitutional amendment to the constitution on Wednesday.

Edgerton News

Edgerton, Feb. 3.—Thieves tried to force an entrance to the Babcock and Keller Co. store this morning. The glass in the rear door was broken and the thieves tried to effect an entrance to the store by prying the moulding off that held the glass in place. A piece of the broken glass was removed, but the thieves failed to enter the store. About 6 o'clock this morning Frank Russell went through the alley on his way to the First National bank to fire the furnace, and as he entered the alley two men were seen to enter the alley and disappear. He said today that he expected a larger gathering this year.

The address of welcome was delivered this afternoon by Gov. E. B. Phillips. The response was made by C. J. Orisett, president of the Wisconsin County Highway commissioners' association. CHICAGO TIED WITH GOPHERS FOR FIRST PLACE IN "BIG TEN"

Wisconsin Practically Eliminated From Race Tossing to Chicago

Results of Saturday's conference basketball games again show up Chicago and Minnesota as the only real contenders for the championship. Wisconsin's hopes for a chance at the top went glimmering when the Badgers suffered their fourth straight defeat of the season losing to Chicago in a hard fought game at Madison, 24 to 19.

Northwestern, Illinois, and Minnesota, together with Chicago were the victors in Saturday's battles.

In their game against the Maroons, the Badgers led at half time 13 to 9. The midway bunch opened the second period with a rush and won the game by a score of 27 to 23.

In a spectacular game at Lafayette, Northwestern defeated Purdue 23 to 22. It was the Purple's scoring of free throws which gave them the victory, each team making the same number of field goals.

Northwestern is looking up strong as a contender for honors and should give the Gophers and Maroons something to think about.

Michigan staged a sensational comeback against Illinois at Ann Arbor but lost by a score of 27 to 23. The Illini may still be figured on as one of the teams in the race for the pennant and will doubtless give the three teams in the upper berth a run for their money.

The Suckers led at the end of the first half by a 16 to 5 count. Minnesota won its fourth victory of the season from Iowa by the score of 15 to 13. The Hawkeyes in the first half, coping this section of the fray by a score of 15 to 3. Iowa showed real class in the second half and came through on the long end of a 15 to 13 count.

CARDINALS WILL PLAY OLYMPICS, THURSDAY

Not satisfied with the trimming they received at the hands of the Lakota Cardinals three weeks ago, the fast Olympic club quintet of Madison will return to Janesville, Thursday evening for another game. Reports being received from Madison indicate that the Olympics are loading up for the contest.

Tauchen, the much talked of forward and claimed to be one of the best basketball players in the middle west has been added to the Madison line up and several other changes are to be made.

Owing to the fact that the Olympic club has secured the services of Car, he will not be in the Cardinal line up on Thursday, but will play with the Cards the remainder of the season.

secured to return here for the game on Thursday and Capt. Hemming is now seeking a running mate for Peterson made a decided hit with the fans on his initial appearance in this city and his playing was largely instrumental in the Lakotas grabbing the game from Madison. The score, the last time the two teams met was 28 to 26.

Every effort is being made by the management to secure the best players possible and by the crowd on last Wednesday evening proved that the citizens of Janesville want a basketball team and everything possible will be done to give this city a winning aggregation.

Several hard games have been booked for the coming months, and the fans of this city are going to have the privilege of seeing some of the greatest teams in the country in action on the local floor. Owing to a banquet being given by the Olympic club at Madison on Wednesday, the game this week will be played on Thursday.

Janesville is to be given a team this season that will rank with the teams that this city has produced in the past. Owing to the fact that a number of the stars are in the army, it will be impossible to secure their services at the present time, but most of them are expected to be discharged, and the team will be improved from time to time.

On February 19, the Detroit Y. M. C., credited with being one of the greatest basketball organizations in the United States will play the Cards in this city. The team will play five games in Wisconsin, the initial contest taking place in this city.

The team is being brought to this city at considerable expense and every effort will be made by the Cardinal manager to secure a team to hang a defeat on the Detritors.

TEAMWORK GIVES STARS 24 TO 21 WIN OVER BELOIT

Outplayed and Outscored in First Half All Stars Stage Great Comeback In Second Period.

In a fast game at the Y. M. C. A. gym Saturday night the "Y" All-Stars downed the Beloit Winnabagoes by a count of 24 to 21. A fair sized crowd witnessed the contest.

The gateway city bunch opened the game with a flash and ran the score up to 18-3 at the end of the first half. It looked like a walkaway game for the Beloit gang, but in the second period the Stars took advantage of the Winnabagoes' over confidence and by fast teamwork and accuracy on baskets they managed to slip over Beloit.

There were no individual stars for the local bunch, every man putting up a great exhibition. Beloit starred for the losers. The scores: Beloit 21, Babcock 11, Fry 11, Fullman 11, Wilfred Hager 11, Kemp Gruesell 11, Bolmer Graf 11.

Substitutions—Marko for Gruesell, Zahn for Graf, Dawson for Kemp, Field Goals—Fullman 3, Hager 2, Babcock 2, Graf 2, Zahn, Gruesell, Wilfred 2, Bolmer 2, Fry 1, Kemp 1, Three throws—Hager 2, Bolmer 1. Referee—Cassidy.

Stars Play Tuesday.
The "Y" Stars will play the senior "X" team at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening in the Y. M. C. A. gym.

If the Stars are given better support they will be able to bring such teamers as the Beloit Outlaws, Delavan and return games with Edgerton and the Winnabagoes.

Soldiers to Aid Loan Drive.
Appleton.—Soldiers who have been active service in France, many of whom have been seriously wounded, will assist in the next Liberty loan drive, in this country, according to information from the county council of defense headquarters here. The returned soldiers will unite in an effort to put the country over the top without any serious trouble or "night raid" which characterized the last loan drive in this country.

Defends Y. M. C. A.
La Crosse.—Dr. Edward Evans, for six months in the war zone in Europe, defended the Y. M. C. A. in a speech here at a banquet for 600 returned soldiers. Criticism of that organization he held is due to mistakes made by a few individuals. He was loud in his praise of the Salvation Army.

day which is a great religious city and has one of the best and most beautiful cathedrals in the world, one of the seven wonders. Well, I am not going to describe this place in a letter, but will tell you all about it before long.

I suppose you wonder how we spent the holidays. Well, they were not very exciting, but we had lots of good eats and that helps a lot.

One thing that is fine here at Cauterets is the sulphur baths, which we can get.

LESLEY C. STEWART, Battery E, 69 Art., C. A. C.

WILLIAM MORRISSEY, William Morrissey, 50th Division, has written to his mother, Mrs. Dennis Morrissey, 214 Center street, William has been in the hospital but when he wrote was back with his company again. His letter follows:

"I was in the hospital but I am fine now. After I came out of the trenches I was all in, but not wounded so I was shipped over to the hospital. Here I had a fine bed and a good bath and was treated royally and my only regret is that I missed my pay. While I was in the hospital I saw General Pershing and on my way back to the company saw the King of Italy."

"I was transferred from the 86th to the 50th division called Blue Ridge. Most of the boys are from Virginia and West Virginia."

Worries Over Son; Takes Life.
Sheboygan.—Robert Rehnwald, 58, for 27 years foreman of the Northern Furniture company, committed suicide but cutting his throat with a razor. A fit of despondency due to failing health and aggravated by worry over his son who is with the American troops in France is attributed as the cause of the deed.

Charged With Firing House.
Sheboygan.—Herman Schette, of Plymouth, charged with setting fire to a house and barn, was committed to the county jail in default of bail for $3,000 and bound over to the next regular term of circuit court, upon his confession, secured by two deputy fire marshals.

Cauterets, Jan. 11, 1919.

In considering the purchase of a Ford car one fact of practical value stands out like a sore thumb, and that is the absence of doubt as to the reliable service the car will give. Never a fear nor wavering thought as to the absolute certainty of the car delivering your wants over all sorts of road conditions, in all kinds of weather and under all methods of usefulness—from the delights of touring and pleasure riding to business transportation, farm work and mercantile service. Positive dependability has been established beyond all contradiction. And the evidence of this valuable fact comes from every section of the civilized world—and especially from the business and professional men and farmers of America. Go where you may and you find Ford cars running summer and winter in the ratio of more than five to one over any other car. This result is not of chance, but because the Ford is the most dependable and economical motor car made.

Runabout, $500.00; Touring Car, $525.00; Chassis, $475.00; Coupelet, $650.00, with Ford self starter, $735.00; Town Car, $750.00; Sedan, $775.00, with Ford self starter, $850.00; One-Ton Truck Chassis, $550.00. These prices F. O. B. Detroit.

CONSIDER THE SOLDIERS.

Complaints pertaining to the welfare of soldiers continue to flood congress. It is assured that when the investigation will be made. It does not appear that the present congress is going to pay much attention to the complaints.

Thousands of criticisms of the manner in which the administration has conducted its affairs are on file and have been grouped in classes as follows:

That soldiers, chiefly wounded or sick, have not received their pay for months.

That allotments of pay and government allowances to soldiers' dependents are months in arrears, occasioning much distress.

That information concerning wounded soldiers has been refused by the war department and relatives referred to the Red Cross, which was unable to furnish the information.

Secretary Baker denies the charges and says: "Concerning the allotments which are payable by the war department, I wish to state that these payments are being made promptly and that they are not in any way in arrears."

His statement does not find backing
by the thousands of mothers, wives and children of soldiers who have had to wait weeks for allotments needed to pay their bills for necessities of life.

It is said complaints have been sent to Washington from nearly every city and village in the country.

Secretary Baker adds that there may be some delay, caused by failure to locate allottees. This may be true in a number of cases, but it is doubtful if the great wave of complaint which has been made for months comes from these.

Any excuse that Secretary Baker or other department heads may give at this time does not set well with those who have undergone the actual experiences of war. It would seem that with the proper executives in charge of the problem, some arrangements could be made to care and protect the families of the men who have given up their opportunity to provide for their families in order to fight the battle of democracy.

Minority Leader Mann, who has been presenting these complaints in the house, in writing to Secretary Baker, says: "The inefficiency of the bureau of war risk insurance would be a burlesque were it not a tragedy.
Unless the letters which come to me and other members of congress mis-state the facts you are in error in believing that the allotments payable by the war department are being made promptly and are not in any way in arrears."

"I beg to say, also, that I am receiving many complaints from soldiers that they are not receiving their pay and have not received it for many months. In many cases though in dire need of money."

"These are not the only complaints being made against the war department. While the government is maintaining an expensive system of offices under the department of labor to secure employment for discharged soldiers, the soldiers in the service who have employment awaiting them and where they are needed, find it in many cases, difficult or impossible to secure discharges."

"Another matter which I call to your attention is the refusal of the war department to obtain information concerning soldiers who are reported wounded and referring them to the American Red Cross. Such action on the part of the war department seems to indicate an absolute insensitivity to humane feeling."

Once more we repeat: "It is about time for the administration to realize that we have problems here at home which need immediate attention. Our boys have responded willingly to the call to the colors. They have won glory on the fields of battle. There was no complaint when they were making possible the defeat of the enemy. Now that hostilities have ceased consideration should be given the mothers fathers and wives of the brave men who have fought our battles."

THE NEW CHIEFS.

In the appointment of Chief Murphy and Chief Gower as heads of the fire and police departments, respectively, the fire and police commission have selected men experienced in their lines in Janesville. They know the situations thoroughly and have the opportunity to make the most of them.

Janesville is going to grow in population and the duties of both departments will be increased. The council should stand right back of these men in any endeavor to make their departments more efficient. They have been given temporary appointments and it is right that they be given every chance to put their departments on a working basis which will give better service.

It has been said time and again that the police department needs a signal alarm system by which headquarters can keep in touch with the patrolmen on the beat. With the ever-increasing population it would seem that this is a necessary addition to the police equipment. If it is needed, there is little doubt that the council, which has shown its desire to keep pace with the progress the city is making, will provide means for the installation of such a system.

The Gazette extends to Chiefs Murphy and Gower its congratulations.

and predicts they will make the most of their opportunities as executives of their departments.

A member of the legislature suggests that the assembly should open its sessions with song. It might work alright as long as they all sang in unison, but perhaps an attempt at harmony would result in someone getting off the key. It might be a good thing to try it. There are times when harmony is needed in both houses of the lawmakers.

It has been said that high school girls of Stoughton have appeared at classes with yellow-stained fingers, and it is intimated that cigarettes were the cause. Perhaps some of the girls had to help father sort the 1918 tobacco crop. At least give them the benefit of the doubt.

A bill providing that waitresses wear bells so that the diner can enjoy his soup with widespread elbows has been proposed in the Wisconsin legislature. Most waitresses we know are so graceful that they can glide around without endangering the equilibrium of poised soup spoons.

Competition is being most keen in all lines. Now comes a man, an in-terne in a St. Paul hospital, who announces his own toe and not only saves the cost of the operation, but wins a bet of $15. Even the surgeons may be compelled to advertise.

Lancaster, Pennsylvania, coal dealers are calling on their patrons urging them to buy coal at reduced prices!
Can you imagine such a state of affairs?

THEIR OPINIONS

$313 Per Day.
It is estimated that the average daily cost of the Wisconsin legislature while in session is $313, which is lower than any other state in the union. And, although this is a very creditable showing from the viewpoint of economy, Wisconsin scarcely will care to be classed as a "cheap" state.

Others Take Heed.
A Washington press dispatch says that this country is short a million catch up with the growing demand.

—Superior Telegram.

Retarding Progress.
South Dakota soldiers having voted to indefinitely postpone action on the League of Nations plan and the dry amendment it is to be expected that the peace conference will take a recess and the peace talks will be deferred to a later date.

A Warning.
Now children, remember that the thrill stamp buyer of today is the autumnal owner of future years, while the candy and ice cream soda buyers are mostly qualifying for walkers.
—Marquette Eagle-Star.

Now's the Time.
Fond du Lac is one of the cities that intends to get an early start this year on its public improvement program and by so doing aid at the same time in solving some of the labor troubles of the country. New pavements and other work of a similar nature are contemplated for this year and will take up a good share of the local surplus of common labor should there be any at that time.
—Fond du Lac Reporter.

Stop Them Now.
America already has many thousands of contemptible characters who have hurried here to escape from wretched conditions in their own countries and who have found things here so vastly better that you couldn't drive them back with a whip, and yet they evidence no appreciation. On the contrary, with infinite impudence they publicly express their profound contempt for the government of the United States of America. It is high time we stopped any more of their kind coming here.
—Madison Journal.

So It Do.
The millennium approaches. Ashland county has a term of circuit court without a divorce case scheduled for the first time in its history.
Mighty uninteresting term of court,
we should say. No scandal, no broken hearts. The world do move.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

TOO LATE.

Roses I send the bier of my dead,
Red roses and white;
Each blossom a symbol of prayers I have said.
For the soul taken flight,
But always I sigh as I gaze on them,
There,
That I sent them, too late.
In vain is the love that my roses declare.

My friend couldn't wait.
Oh, would that my dead could my roses translate
At the gate of the tomb!
And find in them deeds for which he could wait.
In each petal and bloom.
Here are love's unspoken and praises unsaid.
That I bring to his door,
And thoughts he'd have treasured—
but now he lies dead
And needs them no more.

So I gaze at the calm and the peace
on his face
Through eyes misty and dim
And pray that the angels of mercy and grace
Shall deal gently with him.
And I vow to go forth where the living are brave
And never more wait, Withholding the love and the cheer
that men crave
Until it's too late.

Wirthmor Waists

With a National-Wide Friendliness

Whenever any article, whatever its nature might be, attains nation-wide friendliness, it symbolizes just one thing, namely that through its merit and satisfying qualities it deserves that friendliness. This is the case with WIRTHMOR WAISTS. In Maine, in California, way up in Washington, or down in Southern Florida, in over two thousand cities, they are being sold by progressive merchants and being worn by prudent, thrifty women.

The price of the Wirthmore here and everywhere throughout the United States is $1.50. This is the lowest possible price at which waists of such high character can be sold, and their sale at this modest price is due solely to gigantic collective buying power of the many hundreds of Wirthmor Stores and the many great economies of the Wirthmor Plan.

You will never know how good a waist $1.50 can buy until you have worn a Wirthmor. Every waist bearing this label carries with it a three-fold assurance. Namely style assurance; value assurance and economy assurance.

In this city Wirthmor Waists can be sold only in this one store.

The Romance of France and America.

A super motion-picture spectacle inspired by Pershing's immortal speech at the tomb of Lafayette.

The glorification of Franco-American unity of purpose and spirit.

The title itself carries the heart appeal. It is a pictorial expression of gratitude entwined in intense dramatic interest.

An engrossing page in history is its foundation, upon which has been built a baffling mystery and thrilling love story.

A superb conception linking the American spirit with that of all freemen.

But touching slightly on war which has only been to picture the cheerful side of the Great Conflict.

Depicting the tenderness and care extended our boys by French mothers and how they are received and entertained in the homes of the French.

Tales of the Friendly Forest

"Wear your last year's bonnet With the faded ribbon on it; Don't you buy a single new Except a Savings Stamp this spring."

And just as soon as she finished this song, Old Mother Magpie tightened the strings on her three-year-old and a half-old bonnet and poked one of her claws through a hole in her mitt.

"I haven't bought a single thing at the Three and One Cent Store this spring," answered Billy Bunny, and he swung his little striped candy cane up and down, and then he wiggled his left ear with his right hind foot, and by that time Old Mother Magpie didn't know what to say, for she was so puzzled to know what the old magpie would do next that she forgot to scold.

And just then Uncle Lucky, the dear old gentleman rabbit, you know, drove up in his Luckymobile. "Honk, honk, honk," went the horn. "Gracious me!" exclaimed Old Mother Magpie, "how you startled me. I'm not used to new-fangled things like Luckymobiles," and then the old magpie folded her shawl around her shoulders and looked scornfully at Uncle Lucky.

"My dear ma'am," said Uncle Lucky, "people with wings have little need for Luckymobiles, but when one has to spend on his old rheumatic legs, it tells you there's nothing better than an automobile."

But Old Mother Magpie only shook her head and flew away. And then Billy Bunny hopped into the Luckymobile and away they went. Uncle Lucky and his old wedding stovepipe hat and blue silk polkadot handkerchief, and Billy Bunny with his knapsack and striped candy cane, and Billy after a while, they came to a flagpole on the top of which flew Old Glory. So Uncle Lucky took off his old wedding stovepipe hat and gave three cheers, and so did Billy Bunny, and then, all of a sudden, a regiment of Bunny Boy Scouts jumped up from behind a fort and cheered.

"Hurrah!" said Uncle Lucky. "Come over here, boys, and I'll give you some lollipops." And then the old gentleman rabbit pulled a big box out from under the seat and gave every one a red, white and blue lollipop. And then he started up the Luckymobile and went away, and after a while, maybe a mile, they came to an old broken down house by the roadside.

The roof was half fallen in and the front door was hanging by one hinge, and the glass was all broken to bits in the windows, for an old apple tree stood near by and lots of bad boys who passed that way, threw green apples at the windows, you see.

"Let's pick some roses," said Uncle Lucky, and he hopped out of the Luckymobile and went up to the old house where a big red rose vine climbed over the little front porch. And after he had picked a lovely rose, all of a sudden, a voice from inside the little old house said:

"Why do you pick my roses and take them far away? They are the only lovely things that I have left today."

And next time you shall hear who it was who said this rhyme.

ADVISE CARE IN WHAT YOU TAKE FOR GRIP-COLDS

Grip and Pneumonia Go Hand in Hand-- How to Avoid Everyday Dangers

Public warning is given to avoid the danger from poisonous drugs and nerve-destroying stimulants contained in so many grip and "cough cures" at this time. Look on the label of these preparations and you will see that they contain either morphine, heroin, cocaine, chloroform or other dangerous narcotics or poisons such as acetanilide, which should be taken only under a doctor's orders.

A mistake in directions might be fatal because five doses of some of these preparations often contain poison enough to kill a man. Some of the labels specifically state that the medicine should not be given to children. You are safe when you take Father John's Medicine for your cold, because it is pure and wholesome, free from any of the above named poisons or any other narcotic drugs and alcohol and has more than sixty years' success. Father John's Medicine soothes and heals the mucus lining of the breathing passages. It gives strength to fight off the germs of grip and pneumonia. Its gentle laxative effect drives out the impurities and poisonous matter. Be sure to get what you call for.

TIPPECANOE

Being a True Chronicle of Certain Passions Between DAVID LAFRANCE and ANTOINETTE O'BANNON of the Battle of Tippecanoe in the Indiana Wilderness, and of What Befell Them in Old Corydon and now first set forth By SAMUEL MCCOY Illustrations by DeAlton Valentine.

But the mortal weariness came back to his face as David turned forward again. All through the day he forced himself forward, summoning every reserve of strength to compel his limbs to persist in the relentless struggle onward. A sudden pain shot through his side, almost making him cry out. His head began to feel strangely light and his pulses throbbed in his ears. He wanted to cry out to David to stop. The rain ceased and the breeze which drove some early-yellowing leaves downward was chilly; but he burned with a heat that made him dizzy.

Finally he began to stagger from side to side as he walked; and then, with a pitiful, inarticulate moan, which David barely heard, he pitched forward and fainted.

When David reached his side his eyes were closed. Frantically he scooped up handful after handful of water from the nearest pool, dashed it in his face, then felt to rubbing his wrists and temples. And at last he moved feebly, lifted himself on his elbow and looked about with unseeing eyes. He tried to rise farther, and toppled over again, moaning.

David's heart sank at the situation. He found a sheltered spot in which to build a fire, and labored with flint and steel till he succeeded in coaxing a blaze to live in the dry chips and tinder he found in a hollow tree. He lifted like to his arms, exerting all his strength, and bore him to the spot. Blackford was now unconscious, breathing with stertorous grunts that seemed to leave him weaker and weaker. But there was nothing that David could do, and having eaten his bit of venison, he sat through the night with his eyes fixed on the face of the sick man, lying in the faint and wavering light of the little campfire, while the black shadows of the forest closed them in relentlessly.

At dawn like seemed to be sleeping more naturally. The Wabash must lie within a few miles to the west; there was the barest possibility that he might come on some adventurous trapper there, floating down the stream with his load of pelts, who would lend succor. David took off his hunting shirt, hid it, together with his rifle and powder horn, within the hollow tree; tightened his belt and his moccasins, and set off unhampered. A hundred yards and he was lost to sight.

PETHEY DINK—PETHEY STARTS SOMETHING. WATCH HIS FINISH.

in the forest. An hour passed. The sick man stirred in his feverish sleep, raised himself up, and stared wildly about him. He rose to his knees weakly.

A Naked, Copper-Colored Figure Glimed Noiselessly Through the Undergrowth and Crawled Like a Serpent Toward the Madman.

caught sight of a leafy bough nodding in the breeze and waved his hand at it in answer.

"Hello, Jack," he called feebly. "How's New York? Glad to see you—come down on the coast?"

He staggered to his feet and tottered about the grass, shaking hands with imaginary friends. Another train of memory stirred in his delicious brain and he began pleading a cause—argued, blustered, entreated, stormed; and only the multitudinous jury of the trees heard and mocked him with their silence.

A naked, copper-colored figure glided noiselessly through the undergrowth and crawled like a serpent toward the gasping madman. From behind a fallen log its glittering, evil eyes watched the drunken stammerings of the sick man and glanced murderously along the barrel of a British musket. The gun came to a rest over Ike's head; the red finger on the trigger was about to tighten, when suddenly Ike drew himself to his full height and began singing in his clear tenor:

Cheer, cheer, you shall not grieve, A soldier true you'll find me, Ah, non, non, non, pauvre Madelon Would go with you...

The ambushed weapon sank again uncertainly; into the glittering eyes came a puzzled look; and then the hidden savage rose with a grunt of understanding and strode fearlessly with lowered gun up to the singer's side.

"How!" came the guttural salutation. The eyes of the white man looked full at him without a ray of comprehension in their wild stare. A moment only Blackford paused, and then, turning his shoulder carelessly on the warrior, resumed his song.

The Indian nodded understandingly. "Ugh!" he grunted. "White man big Manitou! Make big medicine!" He glided off again into the forest as noiselessly as he came; and for a while only the chattering of the squirrels and the notes of birds broke the stillness overhead. He had sunk to the ground. And then, one by one, there stole into the glade six naked savages, their cheeks hideously daubed with red and yellow ochre, their war-bonnets nodding over their heads. The one who had first discovered Ike pointed to the figure on the grass.

"Big medicine," he grunted; "no hurt."

They passed on to the north, in single file. Behind them came the other two of the party, leading between them a girl whose face was stained with weeping, whose dress was torn and muddy with the march, whose knees faltered beneath her. But relentlessly the march kept on; and the sick man, raising his head weakly from the ground, looked in the face of Toinette and knew her not.

CHAPTER XII.

"Yankee Doodle Dandy." As the end of the hurrying file of savages vanished into the woods David stole back toward the glade where Ike lay. He had gone but three miles on his quest for help when his anxiety for Ike's safety had overcome him and he turned back. He had nearly reached the spot when he caught sight of the last two warriors of the party, and Toinette between them; and even as his blood stopped in his veins at the vision, the two warriors overtook the advance guard and disappeared from view among the trees.

The blood pounded wildly in David's temples, and like a madman he rushed to the side of the delirious man. "Ike!" he whispered hoarsely; "Toinette!—didn't you see them pass?"

But Blackford only moaned piteously; and David sank to his knees, and, as gently as a woman, bathed the parched forehead of the unconscious man. As he watched Blackford, a superhuman force seemed dragging him away to rush after the vanished war-party; but as often as he rose frenziedly to his feet, the utter folly of attempting Toinette's rescue alone pulled him down; and at last he forced himself to turn his back on his last hope and to bow his head to the duty nearest at hand.

Through the long nights his lonely vigils were spent in brooding over the past. By day he scoured the woods for food, finding a wealth of purple clusters of the wild grape-vine, with labrusca, the muscadine; sometimes, seeing the busy cloud of wild bees swarming high overhead, he snatched his face and hands with wet clay, climbed laboriously to their stranglehold, and rifled their rich masses of dripping honey; sometimes finding a store of nuts, forgotten by the chattering squirrels; sometimes succeeding in bringing down a black grouse as it drummed and strutted on a resonant log. Thus eking out their scanty store of dried venison, he kept life in Blackford's body through twelve days of agonized watching.

And at last the fever and the stabbing pain in Ike's side vanished under the healing of the forest.

There came a day when David, gaunt and weak from starvation, bent over Ike and felt the hot tears welling up unconsciously; and even as he watched, Ike's eyes opened and looked up at him with all delirium gone.

"Hello, David," he said weakly, "is the rain over?"

"Yes," was the joyous answer, "Thank God, the rain's over now!"

Ike lay for a while in silence before he spoke again.

"Time we're going on, isn't it?" He tried to rise. "Why, what makes me so weak David?"

"You've been sick a long while, son; easy now, easy!"

The tale of his long delirium was one which he heard in wonder. His sickness had left him like a little child, and he cried in sheer gratitude as he realized what David had done for him. David saw that Ike remembered nothing of the passage of the war-party; and he said nothing of it to Ike, fearing that Blackford would blame himself for Toinette's loss.

They agreed, with hearts inexpressibly heavy, that the delay had driven the last gleam of hope from the pursuit; and as soon as Ike was able to stand they began again to seek the river to the west. Onward they pressed, with infinite toil, Ike's hand clinging to David's shoulder.

Again and again they were forced to terror. He had not lost consciousness; an unendurable fatigue possessed him, but his eyes burned with unconquerable resolve.

"I'll be all right in a moment, Davy," he gasped. "It's only—listen, what's that sound?"

He staggered to his feet and David held his breath. Then he shook his head.

"I hear nothing but the blackbirds, Ike."

"No! Listen, Davy, the fies, the fies!"

David felt an awful fear sweep through him. Had the strain been too much for Ike's exhausted body? Was the delirium to return once more? He began to speak soothingly.

"But Ike held up his hand for silence. 'Listen, Davy, the fies! They're playing 'Yankee Doodle.' And, oh, Davy, you can hear the drums now!"

David strained in an agony of listening. A breeze rustled the tops of the marsh grass, and suddenly upon the wind he heard the unmistakable sound of a marching quickstep, the shrill music of the fies, the rumble of the drums. They threw their arms around each other's necks and shouted with all their strength. Waited... shout again... an answering halloo came faintly to their ears, and with a cry of joy they forced their way through the reeds and found the broad flood of the Wabash at their feet; and flying swiftly toward them a canoe driven by the brawny muscles of two white men.

DINNER STORIES

A dandy employed as an office boy in Kentucky came to work one morning with a face that looked as though it had been run through a meat grinder.

"Henry," demanded his surprised employer, "what in the world has happened to you?"

"Well, sah, boss," explained Henry, "I got into a little argument last night with another nigger, and one of his teeth went down my throat."

He took and blackened both of his eyes, and bit one of his ears mightily high off, and split his lip and knocked two of his teeth loose; and when he got down and stamped me in the stomach. Honest, boss, I never did get so sick of a nigger in mah life!"

Tommy's uncle asked him the name of May's young man.

"I call him April Showers," responded Tommy.

"April showers!" cried his astonished uncle. "Whatever makes you call him such a ridiculous name as that?"

"Because he brings May flowers," Tommy explained.

Afton, Feb. 1.—The community social held in the hall Thursday evening, was a success socially and financially. A large delegation attended from Janesville.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Antidel, who were recently married at Cookston, Minn., have been visiting friends and relatives here. They attended the community social Thursday evening.

The regular monthly meeting of the R. N. A. will be held Thursday at the hall, when the newly elected officers for the ensuing term will be installed.

Fight to Win!

The Nation demands strong men—strong women and robust children. Wisdom suggests that every proper means of safeguarding the vital forces and building up of resistance, be utilized.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

affords definite help to those who are "fighting to win" against the inroads of weakness. Scott's, abundant in tonic-nutrient properties, builds up the body by Nature's methods.

Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J. 12-14

Resinol will clear that blotchy complexion my dear

We always look for sound advice from our elders. Experience has taught them what the young have yet to learn. If you are a sufferer from skin troubles that lower you socially, that rob you of your proper standing among your friends—be it that you are a sufferer from the itching, burning, and unsightly blotches of Eczema, or the red, blotchy patches and unsightly pimples are quickly reduced by the soothing medication of this ointment. Perseverance with Resinol Ointment in the most aggravated cases seldom fails to bring that longed-for skin health. Apply the ointment at night. Wash the face with Resinol Soap by day.

Chicago Grain

Chicago, Feb. 3.—Favorable weather and continued firmness of receipts had a bullish influence today on corn. Combinations of houses and shorts were added to the market, but the bulk realizing on the part of the holders set in and led to something of a reaction. Opening prices, which ranged from 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cents higher with May 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 and July 1 1/4 to 1 1/4, were followed by a decline, but further gains before any took place.

Oats advanced with corn. After opening 12 1/2 to 13 cents up, fresh sales added to the market and then down somewhat. Provisions lacked support. Lard especially for weak.

Export restrictions which the Argentine government was said to consider, led to a decline in the market for buyers. The close was strong, 1/2 to 3/4 cents net higher with May 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 and July 1 1/4 to 1 1/4.
